

COLOMBA AGAIN

The Scene of a Collision Between Americans and Rebels.

Insurgents Attack Our Troops.
But Are Driven Off After Punishment.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The following cablegram came from Gen. Olla this morning: "The insurgents in considerable force appeared in the vicinity of Colomba yesterday. They were punished and driven off by Gen. Hall and men. Our casualties were one killed and six wounded."

ALL IS QUIET.

Apparently the Strike Trouble at Cleveland Has Passed.

CLEVELAND, O., July 31.—Apparently the strike trouble is all over. All was quiet here today up to noon at least. The cars were running regular on all the lines and there was no trouble or any manifested disposition to create any. The strenuous efforts of Mayor Farley to enforce the laws and prosecute those guilty of breaking the laws seems to have set the men to thinking and hence the better order.

ELECTROCUTIONS

In Sing Sing Prison This Morning
—Two Murderers Die.

PING RING, N. Y., July 31. There were two electrocutions in the prison here this morning. Lewis Pullman, colored, was the first victim of the volts. He was pronounced dead in 55 minutes. The crime for which Pullman paid the death penalty was the shooting to death of his white mistress.

OLD CHARGE.

Will Jackson Arrested for Obtaining Money Falsely.

Will Jackson, colored, was this morning arrested by Officers Crow and Jones on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. The alleged offense is stealing some furniture from Taylor Craig, an employee of the telephone company, and selling the goods as his own.

DREYFUS CASE.

Dramatic Testimony of the Subeide, Henry, Recalled.

PARIS, France, July 31.—The Figaro this morning prints in connection with its publication of the evidence taken by the court of cassation, at the supplementary inquiry into the Dreyfus case, the testimony of Capt. Le Prestre. The captain described the late Col. Henry's testimony at the Dreyfus court martial in 1894 as dramatic but inconclusive. Henry, pointing to Dreyfus, said: "I swear he is the traitor."

GOES OUT TODAY.

Alger, as Secretary of War, Is Concluding His Duties.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—This is Gen. R. A. Alger's last day in the office of secretary of war. He arrived at the department early and said the day would be devoted to clearing up routine affairs.

CONTROVERSY SETTLED.

Archbishop Gaetano's Decision Makes an Important Decision.

LONDON, July 31.—Archbishop Gaetano today rendered an important decision in a ritualistic controversy by announcing that from now on the burning of incense and carrying of candles in the Church of England services will be forbidden.

WELCOME ESCORT

May Be Sent to Sea from Newport to Greet Dewey.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 31.—The officers of the North Atlantic squadron now here believe the ships will be ordered to sea to meet Admiral Dewey and escort him to New York.

ENJOYMENT AT CREAL.

Mr. R. P. Stanley Has the Crowd at the Popular Hotel.

Mr. R. P. Stanley, the genial manager of the Ozark hotel, at Creal Springs, Ill., is accommodating the crowd of the season, and this year has a more popular hostelry than ever. The well known ex-Paducahan has had charge of the Ozark for several years, and ever since he assumed charge it has been his good fortune to see it advancing in popularity.

He now gets the largest part of the visitors to Creal, especially those from Paducah, who all know the accommodation and courteous host, and know that he will always provide the best of everything for his guests.

The table sets is not to be surpassed anywhere, and the rooms are all clean and well ventilated. The beautiful appointments of the place make it all the more popular, and all who visit there speak of the highest terms of Mr. Stanley and his popular resort.

ONLY A BLUFF.

Wagner Did Not Really Mean to Jump Off.

Joe Belmont, or Wagner, the circus man, created some little excitement on Island Creek bridge and the vicinity Saturday night by pretending that he had jumped off.

As news as could be learned he was up near Farley's store with the crowd assembling, when someone came and called him out, saying that his wife wanted to see him. He went to meet her and as they were crossing the bridge, he, being in the rear, swung off the bridge, and when they looked back and raised him they ran to the spot where he hung, from the girders when he groaned, and then a great excitement was created by the panic that ensued. He said it was only to bluff his wife.

SWITCHMAN MASHED.

He Was Caught Between the Cars and an Engine.

Dan Gardner, colored, who has been a switchman for the I. C. here for about seven or eight years, was seriously injured about 12:30 o'clock last night in the yards while coupling cars. He was attempting to chain up some cars to an engine and an engine came up and bumped it. Gardner was mangled between the engine and car.

The doctors do not think that he is necessarily dangerously hurt. He lives in town and is well known.

BIG DEATH RATE.

Is Reported From the Plague at Poonah—Alarming Increase.

BOMBAY, B. Ind., July 31.—An alarming increase of the plague at Poonah, is reported. There have been seven deaths and 350 new cases in the last forty-eight hours. The people are almost panic-stricken.

OVERSEER COOKSEY

Has a Case of Typhoid Fever and
It Is Thought Is Seriously Ill.

Overseer of the Changang Wo Cooksey is reported dangerously ill from typhoid fever. He has been down a week, and was not thought to be very ill until the latter part of last week.

This afternoon his condition was no thought to be very favorable.

MORE VOLUNTEERS RETURN.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The first Red Cross and Utah light battery has disembarked from the transport Hancock this morning and were escorted to Fresno, where they will go into camp, by several battalions of artillery. The returning soldiers were reviewed by General Shafter and Governor Poyner, of Nebraska. Thousands turned out to see them. Women placed the veterans with roses and some placed laurel wreaths around their necks. The men are in apparently excellent condition.

FEUD CASES UP.

HARRISBURG, Ky., July 31.—The Howard Baker feud murder cases were called for trial this morning. Wiley Baker was granted bail in the sum of five thousand. The case of James Baker was then called, but postponed until tomorrow. Many factions are in attendance.

IS IT A SCOOP?

WASHINGTON, July 31.—No report on the Samoa matter nor from Justice Chambers has been reached at the state department. If the report of the commission, as published in San Francisco, is genuine it is a scoop on the department.

ONCE NOTED WOMAN DEAD.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague, once the most noted of Washington society women, died at Edgewood, her country home, near here, this morning.

COUSINS MARRY

They Came Over From Illinois—
United by Judge Tully.

Left for Home at Noon Today—
Could Not Marry in Their Native State.

Mr. De Witt Holt and Miss Jennie Holt, cousins, and aged respectively 25 and 35, arrived yesterday afternoon from Vergennes, Ill., their home, and this morning were at the county court house bright and early, being unable to find the county clerk yesterday, and were shown through the county jail by Deputy Jailer John Hughes, while awaiting the arrival of the officials.

At 9 o'clock Judge Tully performed the ceremony which made them man and wife and accompanied by Dr. L. O. Cox, of the same place, and a lady friend, they proceeded to take in the town until noon, when they left for home.

The groom is a farmer, and the bride looked like she might have been had she been a man. They were cousins, and for this reason came to Kentucky to marry.

SMALLER CASES

Minor Offenses Punished by the Judge This Morning.

The McCawley Case Was Somewhat Mixed and Was Continued.

John Dickett, colored, for using improper language, was fined $5 and cost.

Ruby Ray, a colored stevedore from "Jersey" was charged with being drunk and disorderly. She said she was drunk, but not disorderly, when asked what she was drunk on, she replied "gin, whisky, wine and beer." The court thought that a woman who could take such a prodigious variety and not become a little disorderly was a freak, and heard the evidence. The result was the woman was fined $20 and costs for the offense.

Frank Potts, an old relative, was fined the usual dollar.

Harvey Sanford, colored, was charged with calling Henry McCawley, colored, a n—r. The evidence showed that McCawley was trying to get Sanford out of a room at the house occupied by the former, but owned by his sister, who was on one of the packets and has paid the taxes on the property, which should have been done, according to Judge Sanders' way of looking at it, and was corroborated by his daughter, while Sanford swore that he did not, and that McCawley does not know what took place. The case was left open for further elucidation.

NEWS NOTES

If Dreyfus is acquitted he will not sue for damages but as a matter of principle will ask for an indemnity of 20 cents. He could demand a large sum of the state for his long imprisonment on a false charge, and the state in turn could sue the Claus, Gousser, Mercier, Pelleux and others implicated in his convictions. This would ruin these men, as none of them are rich. Dreyfus refuses to "make money out of his wife's tears and sufferings."

Lightning struck the house of Harvey H. McConnell, near Cottage Grove, in Henry county, Friday afternoon and instantly killed him and his wife, setting fire to their clothes and the house. They were in different parts of the house. Two children were in the room with Mrs. McConnell and were not hurt.

Miss Emil Vandell, a New York artist, has been awarded the prize offered for the best design for a fountain, to be erected at Providence, R. I., in honor of the memory of Carrie Matilda Pajonetti, of Turin, Italy, a commission selected Miss Vandell's model in preference to numerous others submitted by sculptors of New York, Boston and Providence. Miss Vandell is a Kentucky girl and began her art education in the Cincinnati Art school. She completed her studies in Paris, and since her return from Europe has done much notable work. She is the only woman member of the National Sculptors' Society of America.

Lee T. Philpot, of Vinita, I. T., who was a member of Captain's company, Roosevelt's Rough Riders, contra dicted the statement that the Philpot Morrie in Clay county has nothing to do with the Baker Howard feud. He attributes the trouble to politics. He adds that if it is necessary he will leave to their assistance and will bring with him a score of comrades.

SHOW PEOPLE FINED.

The managers of La Belle Park this morning pleaded guilty to showing on Sunday and were fined $10 and costs by Justice Charles Emory. The fine heretofore had been only $5. The Sunday baseball draws a larger crowd than the show, but the justice claims he has no way to reach the players, as they do not charge any admission and are not paid clubs.

CLAM IS OUT.

LONDON, July 31.—A Paris dispatch says "Paty du Clam has been liberated."

WENT TO JAIL.

Ed Houston Pleaded Guilty to Stealing From a Cook.

Ed Houston, colored, who is very much of a dandy and a would be cake walker, was this morning presented in Judge Sanders' court on a charge of stealing a pair of gold rimmed glasses from the servant's room at Rev. H. H. Johnston's, on North Bayouth street.

Houston was caught as he attempted to leave the premises, and dropped the glasses Saturday night before the officers got him to the city hall. He was also charged with getting 20 cents out of the cook's pocket book, and this he denied. He said he took the glasses, but knew nothing about the money. He claimed he went to see the cook about making him a collar.

Houston was held to answer and failed to give bond. He had been sporting around Paducah for quite awhile, and his last escapade is not a surprise.

RUSSIA RILED

Over France's Tendency to Rapprochement With Germany.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—The tendency manifested by France toward rapprochement with Germany is causing great dissatisfaction and suspense in Russia. The newspapers express diametrically opposed to the aim of prejudice to themselves, as the French in strong terms their great dissatisfaction, and try to demonstrate that Russia and France could not admit Germany to their intimacy without Germany.

IS SEEING THE TOWN.

Officer H. W. Meyers, of St. Louis,
Here On a Visit.

Officer H. W. Meyers, of St. Louis, is here on a visit to Marshal Collins and other friends. He met at the Paducah boys last month when they went over with the Elk, and the impression was mutually agreeable, and he treated them so courteously, that they invited him over. He is now here and some of his friends among the Elk are looking after his welfare.

MAYFIELD WOMAN HURT.

Mrs. Charles Long Burned There
By a Coal Oil Fire.

Mrs. Charles F. Long, of Mayfield, in attempting to build a fire in the stove by the use of coal oil, was badly burned on the body and face this morning. Her clothing caught from the fire, her hair was singed off and her face was blistered. Her screams attracted the neighbors to her aid and saved her life. Medical assistance was immediately procured and she is resting as well as possible.

COOL IN NEW YORK.

President's Party Finds It So, Heat
Being Required for Mrs. M.

HOTEL CHAMPLAIN, N. Y., July 31.—President McKinley took a short stroll around the grounds this morning and later attended to official business. It is very cold here and heat is kept turned on in Mrs. McKinley's apartments.

DEATH OF A CHILD.

Ernest, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, of Myers street, Mechanicsburg, died last night from congestion, and the funeral will take place from the residence, burial at Oak Grove, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The child had been sick only one day.

CHAMBERS RE-SIGNED.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The state department has not yet been officially advised of the arrival in this country of Chief Justice Chambers, of Samoa, and, in fact, it does not yet know that he has taken leave of absence as reported. Respecting that gentleman's statement that he might not return to Samoa as chief justice, it may be said that there was an expectation here, when the Samoan commission started out, that Mr. Chambers would relinquish his place in conformity with the tact arrangement to make a even sweep of all the officials at Apia of all nationalities who had in any way been involved in troubles there. The state department has no official advice whatever from Apia.

AN OVERTURNED ENGINE.

JACKSON, Tenn., July 31.—Joseph E. Alexander, of this city, an engineer on the Illinois Central, was killed at Covington, Tenn., Saturday morning by the engine having the track, over turning and crushing him to death. His remains were brought here this evening for interment. He was a single man.

J. L. BOWDEN DEAD.

MAYFIELD, July 31.—John L. Bowden, of the firm of G. W. Bowden & Sons, died here Saturday morning of lung disease at the age of 25.

PROTECTION NEAR.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The gunboat Machias should reach San Domingo today. The cruiser New Orleans is expected to reach here Thursday.

YELLOW JACK

Appears at Hampton Roads Soldiers' Home Place.

Surgeon General Wyman Has Already Begun Preparations to Stamp It Out.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Yellow fever has appeared at the Hampton Roads Soldiers' Home, creating no little excitement since the fact has become known. Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service, is making active preparation to stamp the disease out and will leave no effort unmade to accomplish this end. However the war department looks upon the condition as dangerous and this admission makes things serious.

There are conflicting stories as to the origin of the disease at the Home. One story is that the fever was carried there by a soldier which came from Santiago and another that it was conveyed by a sailor from the same place. But the presence of the disease is not questioned.

Later.—The garrison from Fort Monroe will be removed to some place on the northern coast.

The officials here don't conceal their alarm. It is fully realized that if the fever spreads to Norfolk, Newport News, Portsmouth, Williamsburg and other towns in that section of Virginia it will not be long before the disease will find its way to Washington and Richmond.

Surgeon General Sternberg, of the army, and Surgeon General Wyman and seven department surgeons have been ordered to the Soldiers' Home. A quarantine has also been established against the infected district. Three cases died before the nature of the disease was known and there were several others. Two more cases and one more death is the report today.

No trains or boats are running today for Newport News.

HEUREAUX'S LIFE OBJECT.

Was to Love Women and Fight
Men—Was an Adept.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 31.—Harry R. Pierce, of this city, and some New York friends made a tour of the West Indies and the Windward Islands last winter, stopping at Santo Domingo and Hayti. President Heureaux then desired them a banquet. While receiving his guests, in response to some laughing remark, President Heureaux responded, "I live, Monsieur, to fight men and love women," emphasizing the first as if with a sword thrust, and with the second laying his hand on his heart. "When I can't do the one I will keep doing the other and die." While many jokes were present Mr. Pierce says this was uttered with an insurance characteristic of the West Indian population. During the banquet the president toasted the Americans and their country.

President Heureaux impressed Mr. Pierce as a man of singularly strong characteristics: tall, slender, witty, athletic, hearty, almost too light for a masher, and honest of his white blood and royal ancestry which he claimed. He wore a mustache and had a remarkably piercing eye, one that seemed to penetrate the person addressed.

"He seemed to be always studying his man while talking," says Mr. Pierce, "and taking his measure for every possible purpose. He was as brave as a lion, and the recitals of his personal encounters in battle were something worthy of story books. He had been wounded many times and his left arm was stiff, stiffer than that of the German emperor, not from a wound in battle, but from an infirmity at birth. He was very proud of his wounds, and he wore a collar about his neck, opened in front, as a way as to display a scar which he had received in an attempt at his assassination, when, with his own hand he killed his assailant."

"He told the party with great earnestness and absolute simplicity of utterance, and without any display of oratorical, how he had killed 21 men in the various sorts of encounters in the last seven years. Whenever an insurrection was threatened he resorted to severe measures, and his reputation, like that of Venezuela, was a sort of concealed military despotism. He would, he said, send out for 20 or 30 of the suspected insurrectionists, and have them promptly executed before sundown. His contests with Haiti were remarkable for the uniform success of his troops and enforcement of his diplomacy, when not interfered with by other powers, mainly France."

Mr. Pierce reports that his palace was a strange building looking like a fortress, and it had but one entrance which was always thoroughly guarded. The windows were barred and very narrow, and admirably adapted for defense in harboring assassins who could shoot into the crowd out side without exposing themselves. Mr. Pierce also describes the language as an event to be remembered.

CAMP MEETING.

The annual camp meeting begins day after tomorrow at Eldridge, and as usual the promises are that a large crowd will attend. From Paducah there will be a number of visitors, especially on Sundays. The meeting will hold about two weeks.

MONDAY, JULY 31, 1899.

The Hague peace commission is now a thing that was to be seen, but the moral influence is certain to be of good effect. The arbitration question was generally endorsed and friendship to the idea is bound to increase.

The Fulton Guard doesn't claim that everything in its county is solidly Democratic. It says, with evident great sorrow: "The public, or a part of it, seems to be unusually hard to please this time in their choice for governor." And this is the report from all other sections from which the truth comes.

Expansion has made the United States. Any idea to the contrary would have left it only the New England states at best. In a little more than 100 years the country has expanded its original territory more than four and a half times. This year's growth promises to add further to the present possessions.

The Democrats are almost on the run. They have decided to open their canvass without any further delay. And the old slogan is to be the first part of the state assaulted. Just think: the old rock-rubbed land needs attention first. How have conditions changed and how they will be found changed in November is yet not dreamed of by the people.

How did Kentucky go at the last state election? Is a question often asked. The last election was two years since and in that canvass there were five parties in the field, and although the state went Democratic by 17,804 plurality that party failed to poll a majority of all the votes cast. The vote stood: Republican 169,878, Democrat 187,482, gold Democrats 9,562, Populist 7,274, Prohibitionist 1,732.

"What the press says" or "what the press thinks" is a very common head in the papers of this country. These opinions will do us far as they go, but they don't go far enough. What the people will do or how the people will vote is what should be told the reading public. In the end it is the voting which counts and not what this paper or that politician thought about the contest. Go to, the voter is the power behind the throne.

Goebelin got a very, very black eye Saturday and there is no use of the followers of the Kenyon county king denying the fact. In nine counties so far as has been reported very large gatherings of anti Goebel Democrats held meetings and denounced the Louisville convention and its chief negotiator in strong resolutions and then named delegates to the Lexington conference to be held on the 30 of August.

The Henderson Gleaner, itself a strong supporter of the Louisville ticket and therefore an abuser also of the L. & N. railroad, thus knifes the Louisville Courier-Journal by way of explanation as to its opposition to the road: "Mr. Henry Watterson has let the cat out of the bag. Having learned that the L. & N. railroad has given the Dispatch an order for 50,000 copies of its weekly issue each week for which it pays that paper $500 weekly. Mr. Watterson wrote to Mr. Belmont, of New York, complaining that inasmuch as the C. J. had for 30 years been the friend and champion of the L. & N. railroad, his paper objected to its friend building up a rival paper in such a manner that inasmuch as the trade had been consumed the L. & N. could not evade its agreement and so informed Mr. Watterson. This fact in a measure explains the present attitude of the C. J. toward that powerful corporation." Comment is unnecessary.

An anti-Goebel meeting is being held today in Marion, the home of the James. It is to be hoped the meeting will be held to tell what he knows of that deal between Goebel and Stone and other inside convention facts no doubt still fresh in his mind. His party would feel kinder toward him than it does now, for he is held culpable for the deal which has brought anti disaster to the party.

VERY APPARENT.
Chattanooga Times: "It is apparent that the bench in the ranks of the so-called "Chicago Platform Democrats," of Kentucky, is too wide to be repaired. There is sure to be another Democratic ticket in the field, as a result of the Lexington convulsion. There will be a great shaking up, and the result must be the election of the Republican ticket in November, or else something like the Lexington convulsion, and we doubt if Providence would try to reconcile the warring elements. They are doing "the Lord's work," though not in a pious or even civil manner. When they shall have exhausted themselves in the partisan warfare; when they shall, as one has sometimes seen two game dogs do, fall apart from sheer collapse, and be unable to rise and renew the contention, then will come silence like a pontic to heal the blows of sound; thinking succeeded to brawling and mauling. The people will realize that it was a case of quarreling about possible theories, and a union of all life will follow, of course. Let them fight it out. A fight to the finish will do them, the state and country good; and in the meantime is a Republican governor shall be chosen the time for the other second thought in the ranks of the Democratic factions will be given space in which to ripen."

THE SIMPLE TRUTH.

Warren County Courier: "Many conflicting statements have been given out concerning disaffection in the Democratic ranks in this county. The Courier, in the interest of absolute truth, states that there is disaffection of the most widespread character, and there is no occasion for the suppression or the denial of the fact. Never in the history of the politics of the county has there been so formidable and dangerous disaffection and such a determination to revolt against a so-called party nomination as at this time. The disaffection embraces fully a third of the Democrats in the county, and the larger portion of those who pronounce their purpose of voting for Goebel are simply making the choice between a Democrat and a Republican, and are no demagogues of the manner of Goebel's nomination as those in open revolt. These are facts tempered with extreme moderation."

A BARE FACT.

Louisville Post: "In politics Mr. Watterson has changed his coat so often that he has worn it out. Now he says he wears no man's collar. It was the last article of dress that remained with him, and now that he has thrown away the collar, the fear is he is left naked to his enemies."

WELL-DRESSED WOMEN.

The well-dressed woman, like the poet, is born, not made. The world is poor to get himself rigorously to study the right laws of rhythm, and may then write endless books of verse, but, alas! they will not be poetry. They will not contain the divine spark. And thus with a woman's dress. To know how to dress perfectly is at once an art and an inspiration—may, more, it is an instinct. One sometimes reads this when seeing two sisters dressed alike, yet not alike, one always looks well, the other, per chance the prettier, just misses the cachet that stamps the well-dressed woman. The art of the former lies not perhaps so much in the choice of garments, but in the way she puts them on.

Great and tender is the regard of the really well-dressed woman for detail; for well she knows that our small neglect will often mar our other wise good looks. I call to mind with an ever pleasant remembrance the best-dressed girl of my acquaintance. Her name is Cicely Manning. Her appearance is always delightful rather by reason of its harmony than because of her personal charms. The obviously pretty girl, alas! too often careless because she thinks her beauty is enough, consequently she is sometimes passed by for the woman that is less beautiful, but more blessed with a sense of the fitness of things. Dressing well is not merely a question of money, although a certain amount of money is a dire necessity. My friend Cicely is not particularly well off, and she would doubtless stare against at some of her friends' bills were she to see them, yet she is invariably the best dressed girl in the room. I think her success lies not only in her strict attention to detail and a naturally charming taste, but in moderation, for, although there is an enviable up-to-dateness in her attire, she is never seen in the fashion of the day after tomorrow. It is a mistake to be too previous, and it is a mistake Cicely never makes.

A really well-dressed woman takes great care, not only of her clothes, but also of her personal appearance. She brushes her hair until it shines and shines again; and if she is obliged to use that enemy of female beauty, the curling iron, she is careful never to singe the back of her hair, for far better is it to have it straight, glossy "singed waves." A well-dressed woman also takes care of her complexion and her hands. If she cannot afford to be unimpaired she attends to them herself. Ten minutes a day is well spent in making an otherwise plain hand a thing of beauty. I know a girl who was almost engaged to a man (and alas! the man of her choice), but who lost his affection entirely through his finding out that she bit her nails. It may be that he thought it was a sign of bad temper, or that he merely considered it a dirty and unpleasant habit, but the fact remains that his budding affection faded. He had met her continually in the evening, but never during the day, and he saw her hands one morning during breakfast. Many kinds are smattered at breakfast time, and the woman who craves for admiration (and there is such a thing as a healthy craving for admiration take care to appear fresh and dainty in the early morning. Moonlight may enhance fading charms and heighten imperfect features, but to my mind, the charms that will not bear the most searching sunlight are but little worth.

CHEAP WAY OF MAKING ICE.

Man Fills His Icehouse at the Cost of a Cent a Ton.

An interesting and novel process of making ice by natural methods has been put in operation in this town by a resident. A year ago he had a building specially constructed for his use. The experiment house is unique. It has no windows, but is four square, with a door in each side. The owner says he can make ice faster in a house with doors at the corners rather than in the middle of the sides; still this one does the business. Inside the house is what might be termed another house—a crate—water-tight, and built so as to avoid rigidity of angles, and the crate of the expansion of the water in freezing. The expansion is one-twelfth, so the space to be left between the sides of the crate and of the house proper is easily determined. In the early days of experiments more than six months of the winter were spent in the process of freezing water. The water was smashed by the bulging propensity of freezing water.

At one end of the house is a stand-pipe from the main or the second floor of the building. Another tube, sixty feet long, takes it to a second tank. A third leads it run to floor of the crate. The water runs out it moves slowly and more slowly like clear, cold, crystalline molasses—still more slowly—and stops, frozen. The ice builds upon itself in the crate—forming an anchor lee, not a top film, and the end is a crate of pure, solid ice of such color as no ever saw who has been limited to ice cut from ordinary ponds and rivers. The tubes are arranged with respect to the openings in the building so as to get the maximum amount of cold wind blowing on them. One day's experiment illustrates the process of freezing. The water in the stand-pipe was at 45 degrees. It was eighteen minutes passing through the tubes, and its temperature as it issued upon the floor of the crate was 30 degrees, or two degrees below freezing, and a total reduction of fifteen degrees. The water in the stand-pipe was at about freezing. If anyone visits the experiment house today the owner will show him a crate full of ice—one solid block of about 300 tons weight. The erection of houses of the type required is easily accomplished anywhere, and the ice can be manufactured at a cost of about five cents a ton.—Boston Her.

Largest Diamond in the World.

The largest diamond in the world is in the possession of the King of Portugal, and is known as the Braganza. It weighs 1,680 carats, or 14 ounces. It was brought from Brazil during the last century, and was then valued at some millions of dollars by an expert, but its real value now is estimated at 100,000 pounds. It is uncut, and not a brilliant of the first water.

WHY ROBIN HAS A RED BREAST

One of Christ's Comforters When He Was on the Cross.

Birds played a part at the crucifixion, according to legend. After Jesus had been nailed to the cross two birds came and alighted on the extended arms of the instrument of death. One was a magpie, with a beautiful algerette on its head and a long, wailing tail, then the handsomest of birds, but the wickedest, chirping insults at the suffering Jesus. The other bird was a modest little bird, with gray plumage, which approached the cross timidly, uttering cries of grief. With its wings it tried to wipe away the blinding sweat and blood from the face of Jesus, while with its beak it tried to pluck away one of the thorns which was piercing Jesus' forehead. A single drop of blood fell from the breast of the pitying little gray bird, and gave the world the robin red breast. And so it Jesus said: "Blessed be thou, little bird, which sharpest my sorrows. May joy accompany thee everywhere. Thine eggs shall be as blue as the sky above; thou shalt be the 'bird of God,' bearer of good tidings. As for thee," said he to the magpie, "thou shalt be an accursed bird. Thou shalt lose that brilliant algerette and the beautiful colors on which thou prides thyself as highly. Funeral bird, thy message shall be only evil, and the rain from heaven shall always fall into thy nest." The peasants of France, in accordance with this tradition, pierce the heart of a magpie with a thorn whenever they catch one. In Spain the swallow is considered the good bird, and they say that when the Roman soldiers pressed the crown of thorns on Jesus' brow the swallows came and tried to remove the thorns with their beaks. The Russians say that the swallows took away the nails which the executioners had brought, but the sparrows carried them back again. The Danish say that the moment of the crucifixion the stork, moved with pity, cried "Styrkhalet! Styrkhalet!" (God give him strength!) and since that time the stork has been considered sacred. It is also stated that Longinus, the Roman soldier who pierced the side of Jesus with the spear, was converted on account of the blood which fell upon him. This was due to the cleansing power of that blood, according to the church, and his eyes were thus opened to the beauty of holiness.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

STRANGE TACTICS OF A LOON.

Its Dependence Upon the Wind to Assist Its Flight.

I have shot at loons a great many times on the shores of Lake Superior, and on Lake Superior, and have never known them to attempt to escape from danger unless there was a wind of which they could take advantage in their attempts to rise, states a contributor. I remember once, in company with my brother, trying to secure a loon as a specimen for mounting. The bird was in a lake about three-fourths of a mile long and about 200 yards wide in its narrowest part. My brother was secreted at one end of the lake, and I in a canoe kept the bird in motion, trying to get it within range of my brother's gun, and giving it a chance whenever a chance offered. Although harried for two or three hours it never once attempted to rise from the water. There was a slight breeze, if I mistake not, but not enough to be of any use in the loon's attempt to escape by flight. During the chase the loon swam a distance of 200 yards or more under water, repeatedly, without appearing above the surface. Lake Superior fishermen tell me they have caught them in their nets at great depths. Among those with whom I have talked on the subject it is believed that a loon cannot rise from the water without the aid of a wind blowing directly opposite to the line of

The Marriageable Age.

It makes considerable difference in the matrimonial advantages of a person where he may have been born or is a citizen. This remark applies with peculiar force to the minimum age which renders a union legal. In a measure implies the consent of parents or guardians in all the instances cited, although once united the law sustains the marriage manure dissent of the parents, etc. In Austria, fourteen years is looked upon as sufficient to entitle a person of either sex to take on the burdens of matrimony. Germany requires the male to be 16 and the female 16. In France and Belgium the man must be 16 and the woman 15. In Spain the intended husband must have passed the fourteenth year and the woman her twelfth. The law in Hungary for Roman Catholics is that the man must be 14 years and the woman 12; for Protestants, the man must be 18 and the woman 15. In Greece the man must have been at least 14 summers and the woman 12. In Russia and Saxony they are more sensible, and a youth must refrain from matrimony till he can count 18 years and a woman till she can count 16. In Switzerland men from the age of 14 and women from the age of 12 are allowed to marry. The Turkish law provides that any youth and maid who can walk properly and can understand the necessary religious service are allowed to be united for life.

LOCAL LINES.

—A child of Mr. S. S. Maxwell, of Missouri, who is visiting near Love laced died Saturday from congestion. The remains will be shipped home for burial.

—Today the Kentucky Manufacturing company began the manufacture of horse and cattle powders at its quarters under the New Richmond. It recently located here from Wick liffe, and Wm. Lawson, of Bardwell, is president, John S. Davis, of the same place, vice-president, and H. B. Lov- ing, of the city, secretary and treas- urer.

—Mr. George Bonduant has returned from the Evansville and Henderson divisions of the Illinois Central, where he equipped all the cars with auto- matic couplers.

—Mrs. Sina Green, of the city, and John Tullison, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., are to be married here about the 15th of August and reside in Illinois.

—Mr. Ed H. Fries, 34 1/2 South Fourth street, this morning at the corner of Fourth and Court streets, found the crystalline rim of a watch, the latter apparently gold. The loser can secure his property by call- ing at this office and paying for this notice.

—Yesterday was delightfully balmy; in fact the day was quite fall-like. Last night too was cool, and today has been equally as pleasant as yes- terday. August will have to warm up considerably if there are such things as "dog days" this year.

—The weather whicnners are predict- ing that the coming winter is going to be a very mild one. They say the coolness of the summer indicates this and that there are never two severe winters in succession. The people however, remembering the past winter, are not likely to place much faith in any of these predictions.

—Esther lodge No. 1162, K. A. L. of H. will meet Tuesday night at Solobok in the Campbell building. A full attendance is desired. Refreshments will be served by the ladies.

—There were five additions to the First Presbyterian church yesterday.

—A camp meeting will be begun at Catlett's grove, near Italyville, Wednesday and continued ten days. Rev. G. W. Young, of Winchester, as- sisted by local ministers, will be in charge of the meeting.

—The Belmont Woods circus has moved to Eighth and Trinkle streets for a few days.

—James Elliott deeds to Eva Merigold, for $500, property at Foun- tain park.

—The delightful weather of yester- day crowded the churches and the thoroughfares with people.

—The bill collectors will be abroad tomorrow. This is the most unpleasant fact which each recurring month brings.

—The Sun is the best advertising medium in the city. It is not only read into many homes, but is the best read paper in the city. It is in touch with the people and the facts stated are in no wise surprising. If you want your money's worth and to get the bulk of the trade you will have to patronize the Sun.

—Ed Bohannon, the young man who was undergoing treatment of alleged divine healers for typhoid fever, re- ported resting as easy as could be ex- pected at the city hospital. He is now receiving medical treatment, and it is thought may recover.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tolson, of Court street, this morning became the parents of a fine girl baby, their first born.

—The game between the L. A. L's and the Bee Hive at the park yester- day was quite exciting, and resulted in a victory for the L. A. L's by a score of 10 to 6. A large number of people witnessed it.

—The council will not meet in reg- ular session until next Monday night. There will be no called meeting to- night.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Wallace Strickland Falls With an Unloaded Pistol—Unlucky Result.

Wallace Strickland, a colored youth not known to police fame, was out in the kitchen of a friend on Libel Row this morning fooling with a pis- tol and shot himself in the leg. He claimed he did not know it was loaded. Officer Crow afterwards said that Strickland was going about carrying the weapon and threatening to "kill him a negro," but he could not find him.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Mr. Peter Cairnes, who has been on the railroad for nineteen years, to- day resigned his position as foreman of the water supply on the Illinois Central, to take place tomorrow.

He is one of the oldest and best known railroad men in this section and will be greatly missed by the rail- road men. He does not yet know where he will locate.

BARN DESTROYED.

Mr. Tom Hunt, who resides on the Mayfield and Paducah road, eight miles from the city, near Oak Grove church, had the misfortune Saturday night during the hard rain to lose his barn, together with its contents of corn, hay and other things. The structure was struck by lightning.

The J. H. Richardson left for Evansville on this morning with a good freight trip and 28 or 30 passengers.

The City of Okokonda and Elizabeth town, are leaves tomorrow at noon on return trip. Capt. Arthur Peck is in command.

The J. K. Graves is "off her base" about 60 miles. The Katterj-bn news, have a large loaded with 200, 000 brick that is consigned to Ca- rthursville. If the Graves don't show up by tomorrow they will like- ly lose their trip.

Some fifteen or twenty trip's crossed the river on the ferry boat to the lake this morning to try their luck fishing.

The Dick Clyde, that sank several months ago at Kuttawa, was raised and brought here yesterday in a badly wrecked condition. She will be taken out on the ways for general repairs.

George Simpson built the hull for the new gasoline boat owned by Messrs. Harris and Peck to ply as a tow-boat between Paducah and Kuttawa. The hull is a splendid piece of work, the dimensions are 60 feet length, 11 feet beam and 3 feet hold. It was put up at the foot of Ohio street where the upper works are being placed on it. Her machinery will be 20 horse power.

The Hunter is due tonight from Grand Rivers landing with a big trip of poultry and produce for city mer- chants leaves here tomorrow noon on return trip.

There were not many unemployed river men at their accustomed place of gathering at Monkey Wrench Cor- ner this morning.

The fight opened yesterday in the Louisville and Cincinnati packet trade. The City of Pittsburgh entered yester- day by cutting the excursion rate from $1.50 to $1.00 round trip. The City of Louisville had made the rate of $1.50 which was thought to be very low, in fact cheaper than staying at home. The City of Pittsburgh struck the first blow, now who can name the winner in this contest? The ow- ers of the Cincinnati and Louisville packets will likely put the steagant new steamer City of Cincinnati out in opposition to the City of Pittsburgh leaving with her from both ends of the line.

The City of Cincinnati is about the fastest boat on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. When she first came out last season she beat the City of Louisville's time from Louisville to Cincinnati several minutes.

The Bob Dudley leaves here this evening for Clarksville. She is at least 8 or 10 hours behind time.

The City of Paducah from St. Louis passed up the Tennessee river last night with a very good trip.

The Dick Fowler and crew fresh- ened by the regular Sunday rest, with new vigor and nice business left on prompt time this morning for Cairo.

Still Gupion, with the reputation of being one of the best pilots of his day, is still in the ring, although not in active service for some time. He has not forgotten his ability, as he very often goes over his territory in the Ohio and Cumberland rivers. Only last week he went up to the head of Cumberland island and sound- ed for better water than the packets had been running down to the head of Cumberland island where there was only 20 inches, but Mr. Gupion sound- ed down the Kentucky shore where he contended the best was, which he found, finding 5 1/2 feet, making an abundance of water even with big trips on the packets.

A large party of Paducah cheap- ists will take advantage of the cheap rates to Niagara Falls, leaving here next Monday taking the packet from here to Evansville, which will be the most pleasant route, as that route will give the party the advantage of a pleasant river trip instead of all rail from here. The river route peo- ple will take rail at Evansville, stop- ping there for the Paducah river route people. Rates are equal both routes.

Mr. Saunders Fowler will likely be able to leave here by the 15th of August for Chicago and bring the pleasure yacht home which was built there for a club of gentlemen of this city.

A DEMOCRATIC PETITION.

Some of the Goshel benchmen are out circulating a petition to organize out circulating a petition to organize within the next ten days a central democratic club, and petition plead- ing the signers to Bryan, Goebel and Joe Blackburn.

YARD LIMIT EXTENDED.

The Illinois Central has extended its yard limits for the purposes made imperative by the increased business from the N. O. & St. L. crossing to Island Creek.

Don't be humbugged by high-priced barbers; go to Hay's 10c shop and get the best work.

BOTH WENT TO JAIL.

They Stole a Pair of Shoes and Were Held.

Cordie Brown and Hettie Ratcliffe alias McKee alias Black, two colored coke fiends, were this morning tried on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes from Horace Davis, colored, and selling them on false representa- tion. The Ratcliffe woman was ar- rested at Princeton about a week ago.

They were both sent to jail to await the action of the next grand jury, the shoes having been stolen and sold for coke. Tom Davis, colored, charged with complicity, was acquitted. Judge Sanders fixed the bonds of the women at $200.

MISTAKEN TIPPING.

American Abroad Frequently Pay Too Much for Services.

An American recently arrived in London from a southern city, and he- ing in haste to continue his journey to Paris, hired a cabman to take him on one of his errands. Handing the man a two shilling piece, he directed him to a certain number in New Bond street. After seating himself in the cab, the passenger waited for several minutes, expecting the horse to start. At last he left the cab and found the driver on the box inspecting the coin, which was double the usual fare.

"What is the matter?" asked the in- dignant traveler. "This seems to be a very small coin for so long a distance," was the surly response. The Ameri- can smiled grimly and remarked that the cabman could drive him at once to Scotland Yard. As this is the head- quarters of the police, the driver per- ceived that the American was not a man to be swindled. "I'll drive you to New Bond street," he remarked promptly. "If you will let me go, I'll give you as much more if you will tell me what there is in my gen- eral makeup that encouraged you to believe that I could be fool enough to allow you to cheat me." The cabman by this time looked sheepish and un- comfortable. "I took you for an Am- erican, sir," he said, "and thought I could work another shilling out of you. Here is one of the shillings you gave me and I am ready to drive you to New Bond street." The American had made two mistakes. He ought not to have paid double fare, and he ought not to have paid in advance. By violating the ordinary rules observed by people who hire London cabs, he encouraged the cabman to swindle him. The most judicious course for a traveler in a foreign country is to learn the customs of the people in it, and not throw away money by overpaying cabmen and tipping servants too generously.—Youth's Companion.

PROMOTOR

Of Jungfrau Railroad Dismissed With His Great Work Unfinished.

Zurich (Switzerland) correspondence Chicago Record: A man unique in Switzerland, Adolf Guyer-Zeller, has just been buried in the little manu- facturing village of Bauma, which was very nearly owned by the deceased financier and promoter. A special train left this city this afternoon, bearing to Bauma, besides the remains of M. Guyer-Zeller, a number of members of the Swiss Federal Council, the entire Greek Society of Zurich, a delegation of city officials and about 300 friends and business associates. M. Guyer was the only railway king Switzerland possessed, and his death has caused the expected flurry in railway stocks here. It was due to his marvelous feat that most of the important rail- ways of Switzerland were built. His greatest work was the Jungfrau rail- way, a project which has been pro- nounced impossible by modern engi- neers. When unable to find financial backing he decided to build it with his own money, and himself had defrayed all expenses thus far. A large part of the road is finished, but M. Guyer did not expect to complete it before 1903. Now the question is, who will finish his life work? Aside from his railways, he was greatly interested in manufacturing concerns. His death will be felt greatly by the Greek na- tion, whose consul general he was for the German and Italian cantons of Switzerland.

ALWAYS A DOUBLE.

For Persons Who Gain Social or Polit- ical Prominence.

Washington special New York Mail and Express: It has always been a notable fact in Washington that when- ever a man or woman gained especial prominence in politics, war or society, there appeared on the streets of the capital his or her double. All the presidents have had their doubles, and Cleveland used to be greatly annoyed when told that Lawrence Gardner, who was connected with the Demo- cratic national committee from the district of Columbia, was his exact image. Ex-Congressman Fowler of New Jersey took the greatest delight in being mistaken for President Mc- Kinley, and it is said he affected the president's style and dress to heighten the resemblance. One of the female clerks in the treasury department dur- ing the Cleveland administration se- cured many invitations to social en- tertainments simply because she look- ed like Mrs. Cleveland, and certain hostesses wanted her presence at their functions to make the literary belle- tte that Mr. Cleveland was one of the guests. There have been many fac- similes in human form of the various army and navy heroes of the late war constantly seen about Washington, and their doings have often caused stories to be circulated about the original, which at times, were embarrassing to the latter. But so far as known, the gripman who looks like Dewey had not traded on his resemblance, but seems content with attending to his work as Dewey does.
